OUR VISITORS

We are always delighted to have Oldham in our fixture list, and it gives us great pleasure to welcome them to Clarence Street this afternoon.

Particularly welcome today because they come to us as the leading side in the League table with 25 victories from 29 matches. This is an excellent record on which they are to be complimented.

It was a great disappointment when they were knocked out of the Challenge Cup competition. Many followers of the game had hoped to see them at Wembley.

They are an attractive side, playing the open game to perfection, and we feel sure our patrons will witness a most entertaining encounter.

This appears to be well founded because of the splendid display which our team gave last week in recording their highest score of the season.

They achieved this at the expense of a Dewsbury side which put in a lot of hard work, but the scoring of six tries against one reflected our superiority both in attack and defence.

The movements which produced scores were much in keeping with the early season successes which for some time kept us near the top of the League table. This welcome return to form gave great pleasure to all who saw the game.

A special word of praise is reserved for Alan Dickinson, who had eight successes from nine goal kicks to give him his best achievement of the season in this connection.

There are also the cup-ties this afternoon and it is not easy to predict the semi-finalists. The two main games are at Halifax and Barrow, where Leeds and Huddersfield are respectively engaged.

Leigh's success over our today's visitors favours them at Blackpool, and Whitehaven's home record suggests their entry for the first time into the semi-finals.

Huddersfield will have a hard match against the cup-holders and need to win to give Yorkshire an equal representation in the last four. Many are hopeful that Leeds will be one of them.

The matches are:—

Halifax v. Leeds
Barrow v. Huddersfield
Blackpool Borough v. Leigh
Whitehaven v. Widnes.

In response to our advertisements for a manager-coach there are now ten applications for the post. These will receive the consideration of the directors at a specially convened meeting next week, together with any further applications, and a short list will then be prepared for the purpose of interviews.
