THANKS FOR THE COUPONS.

Our warmest thanks are hereby tendered to the numerous Odsalites who have so kindly sent us clothing coupons to help us in our difficulty of providing equipment for the team.

We are hoping that your fine example will be quickly followed by others, so as to make a further appeal unnecessary.

Letters arriving at Odsal from the various parts where our forces on land and sea are situated, invariably express regret at the absence of news of the detailed doings of the club. Many, at time of writing, have only just heard of last season's successes, so may we ask you to put in a few lines about your Club when next you write to a lad interested in Odsal—you can have a Photo of the ground free to send to him with our compliments if you so wish.

To-day we play the second leg of our Cup game with Oldham, a club whose name and fame are known throughout the world, as one which has always tried to promote the best interests of Rugby League Football. It has not only produced some of the finest players for the game but also some of the finest legislators. Although we lost our League engagement with them at Oldham earlier in the season, it looks as if our boys to-day should reverse that decision, and if so it's certain that our Oldham friends will be the first to congratulate us.
