THE A TEAM.

At home or away, you'll see the big A out in front. Whether it's a refuse collector (we supply over 250 local authorities) or a 328 hp 38-tonner safely shipping a heavy load down the motorway, we've a team of tough and talented trucks to please almost everyone.

Oldham, it seems, has the perfect climate for building better trucks and fielding better players.

WE'VE GOT THE TOUGHEST TEAM IN EUROPE.

CLUB NOTES

On top of the disappointment of losing at Featherstone – a defeat which puts the team under a lot of pressure now to win a top-eight place – we suffered the cruel blow of an injury to Gary Bridge which could mean the popular Aussie has played his last game in Oldham colours.

Gary damaged his left knee early in the second half when challenging for a loose ball and he was carried off with suspected knee ligament damage. He was due to see a specialist last Thursday, but the nature of the injury and the extent of the swelling suggested there was damage to either a ligament or a cartilage.

As Gary and Bruce Clark are due to leave for home on 26th March – the day after the home match against Wakefield – it seems most unlikely that Gary will be fit in time to make a farewell home appearance, although he is keeping his fingers crossed that he might just be ready in time to play against Trinity the day before his departure.

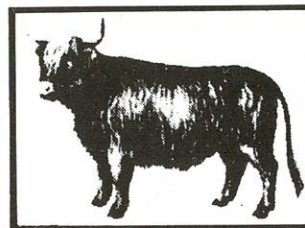

We can also report that Tom Nadiola has left us to join Barrow on a month's loan-cum-trial basis. He made his debut for the Shipbuilders against Leigh last Sunday.

Both Leigh and Rochdale wanted Nadiola on loan, but we turned them both down. The difference in Barrow's case was that they were prepared to pay cash to buy Tom outright. It was Tom himself who was not keen to move permanently until he had 'given it a go' in terms of travelling to Furness from his home in Huddersfield.

We will receive a match-by-match payment from Barrow for Tom's services and, in the meantime, a fee has been tentatively agreed in the event of Barrow wanting to make the move permanent at the end of the month and Nadiola also being happy to stay up there.

Welcome to Bradford... and the Oldham Connection

The Oldham connection within the Bradford Northern camp is quite strong... and there will be several people in Northern colours today who will feel "home from home" here at Watersheddings.

TAKE Iain MacCorquodale (we must be one of the few publications to get his Christian name and surname spelt correctly), who is now Barry Seabourne's assistant at Odsal, having stepped up from colts coach earlier in the season. Iain is one of the best-known personalities on the Oldham-area schoolboy and amateur scene and has been mentor to many hundreds of local lads over the years as they have striven to make it in Rugby League.

Iain is a local schoolteacher, perhaps better known for his prolific goalscoring for Salford, Workington Town and Fulham, who will break new ground next year when he takes a party of Oldham schoolboys to Australia on the trip of a lifetime.

TAKE Phil Hellewell, the Bradford centre who had 'A' team trials here at Watersheddings before deciding on a future with Northern.

TAKE winger Wayne Race, a member of the Northern senior squad, who also had a spell in our 'A' team as A.N. Other prior to signing for Northern from West Riding RU circles.

TAKE Ian Sherratt, the Oldham lad who is now making a name for himself as a big, strong prop in the Northern front-row. Ian played in local League and Union circles as a youngster before signing for Northern from the Waterhead club.

TAKE Brendan Hill, a recent recruit by Northern from Leeds. Big Brendan was a target for Oldham when he was on the Leeds transfer-list, but Leeds rejected our approach and Hill finally moved to the club where his father used to play for a fee in the region of £30,000.

TAKE Karl Fairbank, the Northern second-rower who is a brother of our own Mark Fairbank, and both members of the famous Fairbank family of farmers from Greetland. Karl signed from the Elland club, while another brother, Richard, signed for Halifax, and then Mark joined Oldham. Three down, two to go!

TAKE Mal Graham, the Aussie who first made his name with Hunslet and then played for Oldham last season, scoring more than 20 tries to become the club's top try scorer. Mal helped Oldham to reach the semi-final of the Silk Cut Challenge Cup last year before he moved on to Odsal.

Oldham and Bradford have already met twice previously this season. Oldham enjoyed a handsome victory at Odsal in the league but a week later Northern came here in the first round of the John Player Special Trophy and won well.

Since those meetings, Northern have been strengthened by two big signings, Brendan Hill, the big prop from Leeds, and Steve Evans, the former Featherstone, Hull and Wakefield inside back.

Hill cost about £30,000 in a straight cash deal from Leeds while Evans moved to Odsal from Belle Vue as part of the deal that took back-row forward Dick Jasiewicz to Wakefield.

The signings, alas, have failed to have the desired affect so far because in-and-out Northern, whose inconsistency has been similar to that witnessed at Oldham, have just suffered a run of nine consecutive first division defeats, culminating in a 60-6 trouncing at Wigan which represents the club's biggest league defeat in more than 50 years.

This from a side that was putting pressure on the league leaders earlier in the season and which has had some glorious cup triumphs, including the first round John Player victory here at Oldham and the first round Silk Cut Challenge Cup triumph against the much-fancied Warrington at Wilderspool.

In the next round, Bradford came up against Widnes and after holding them to a draw on their home ground they were well and truly licked at Naughton Park.

Like Oldham, they will now be determined to salvage something from the season by winning a place in the top-eight play-off.

Around the League... with Roughyed

Bradford Northern are reported to be ready to join several other leading clubs in the hunt for Welsh RU outside-half star Jonathan Davies. Northern indicates their liking for Welsh stars when they paid £80,000 for Terry Homes and are now ready to turn their attention to Davies, who is said to be prepared to turn pro after this summer's World Cup in Rugby Union. The price quoted is £100,000 but despite the massive fee, Bradford, Leeds, Warrington and St Helens are all being linked with the Welshman, who is rated in the Valleys in the same category as Cliff Morgan, Barry John and Phil Bennett.

Warrington say they do not want to sell Great Britain winger Mark Forster, who wants to leave Wilderspool after losing his senior place. Kevin Meadows and Des Drummond are now operating on the Warrington flanks, although Forster has done enough in earlier games to merit selection in the Great Britain side for the Test against France.

Hull's Test forward Lee Crooks is reported to be picking up £25,000 for 23 games in the Sydney Big League when he joins Balmain this summer. He has previously played with Western Suburbs, who are now looking to Oldham's Bruce Clark to replace Crooks in the Magpies' front-row. Clark is a long-serving stalwart of Wests but he did not play a lot last season because of an ankle injury that he was clearing up in time to come to England. As he has come through the English season without further mishap, Wests see Clark as the man to add weight and strength to their front-row.

Plans to launch a second professional side in Wigan are gathering momentum, and there is talk of local businessmen sharing the home of Wigan Athletic at Springfield Park to accommodate their new team. The identity of the men concerned is not yet known, but they believe there is scope for a second pro club in the town and promise that they will concentrate heavily on the use of local talent from the hotbed of Wigan and surrounding districts.

The Great Britain under-21 side had no trouble in beating France 40-7 in St John de Luz last weekend. Hull star Gary Divorty turned in a sparkling two-try performance and St Helens winger Kevin McCormack also scored twice in a performance which indicated that he is pressing for full Test recognition.

Injuries upset the balance of the side after they had raced into a three-try lead inside 15 minutes, but there were impressive displays from Divorty, McCormack, Martin Dermott, Gary Sanderson, Shaun Edwards, Darren Wright and Paul Loughlin. Sadly, the game in France still struggles to survive. Latest news from across the Channel indicates that the French Government have come to the rescue by handing over £100,000, half to be used to promote the junior game and half for the preparation of international teams. The French are going ahead with plans to pull out of this summer's tour of Australia, however, their ruling body has been dissolved, and there will be an extraordinary meeting of the League in May. The decision by France not to travel to Sydney will throw the World Cup into confusion and it will be up to the international board to come up with a solution.

Wigan star Ellery Hanley and Hull's Gary Schofield are being lined up as possible League representatives on the BBC A Question of Sport programme.

Congratulations to local lad Stephen Molloy, the Oldham St Anne's prop, on his selection for the Great Britain amateur under-19 squad to play for France at Warrington on 5th April. Stephen captained Lancashire at the same age group this season – although he is only 17 – and has a good chance of 'making' the GB side. Soon, he is to fly out to Brisbane to gain experience with Valleys and he is expected to turn pro on his return.

Another youngster who is attracting a lot of attention just now is Simon Longstaff, the 17 year old Yorkshire loose-forward who is the son of former Huddersfield, Hull KR, Castleford and Rochdale player Paul Longstaff.

THE EDITOR TALKING

...on Red Rose Power

The balance of power in Rugby League is certainly swinging. There was a time not so long ago when Hull and Hull K.R. were the game's big two, closely followed by Leeds. The White Rose has withered, however, and most of the major honours this season look like going to Lancashire (or possibly Cheshire if you want to be precise). Wigan, Rolls Royce men of Rugby League just now, won the John Player Special Trophy with a victory over Warrington at Bolton's Burden Park.

The Stones Bitter championship is a three-horse race between Wigan, St Helens and Warrington, and a few would bet on the title ending up anywhere other than Central Park or Knowsley Road. Even in the Silk Cut Challenge Cup, Red Rose power reigns supreme. It looked at one stage as though Yorkshire might have the greater representation in the semi-finals, but Leigh's shock win at Hull in round three and the Widnes victory at Leeds put paid to all that. So out of the four semi-final teams only Halifax are left to represent Yorkshire against the Lancashire trio of Leigh, St Helens and Widnes.

By the time these notes are read, either Saints or Leigh will already be at Wembley for the final on 2nd May, leaving Halifax and Widnes to battle it out in the second semi in a fortnight's time. Halifax are now the top team in Yorkshire – and what a remarkable transformation there has been at Thrum Hall since David Brook took over as president a couple of years ago. Last season, there was the Slalom Lager Championship, and now Halifax are only one match away from returning to Wembley for the first time in more than 30 years. They will, however, face a terrific task against Cup kings Widnes who always seem to possess the knack of coming good when the Challenge Cup comes around.

Halifax's recent League win at Naughton Park will count for Nothing come the semi-final – but Halifax boss Chris Anderson is far too experienced to think otherwise. Indeed, one of the remarkable features of last weekend's games was the steely and determined attitude displayed by teams whose main thoughts must now be on the semi-finals. The St Helens match was postponed, but Leigh won a vital four-pointer in their relegation dog-fight at Barrow, and Halifax and Widnes slogged out a real humdinger in their dress rehearsal for the real thing. You often find that teams in the lower reaches of the First Division began to battle for their top-flight existence at this time of the year.

Featherstone have done it for years and their annual Houdini-act is now one of the features of end-of season Rugby League. Their win over Oldham last Sunday will no doubt inspire them to keep up the good work. Salford are already pulling away nicely, after at one time looking certain to go down, and Leigh will clearly gain confidence following their cup win at Hull and their vital League Victory at Barrow last weekend. Barrow will also be scrapping every inch of the way – and it all means that clubs which might appear safe and dry at first glance, such as today's teams Oldham and Bradford, will be anxiously glancing back over their shoulders unless they start to pick out a few points in the next week or two.

CAPTAIN'S TALE

by DAVID TOPLISS

We are all bitterly disappointed at Featherstone last Sunday, not only because we were beaten but because of the nature of the defeat. Rovers seemed to want to win more than we did, which was difficult to understand because I think we still have a lot to play for this season in terms of qualifying for the Premiership play-off.

Featherstone, of course, were fighting for First Division survival and they got a couple of early breaks that produced tries on a day when the heavy conditions made it difficult to get back at them. The conditions deteriorated as the game wore on.

It was not a day for catching up, if you know what I mean, and I thought to myself that if we had gone 12-0 up all we would have needed to do was to shut up shop. We now have to do well in a run of four consecutive home games, which started last Wednesday night when Warrington were here.

Today, we entertain Bradford Northern. You will recall that we won well at Odsal early in the season, but only a week later they came back to Watersheddings in the first round of the John Player Special Trophy and knocked us out at the first hurdle.

Maybe, we were a bit complacent on the day after winning at Odsal seven days earlier, but we all know that there is no room for complacency in the First Division, and we will be determined not to slip up this time.

The game is particularly important to us because we are one of a handful of clubs who are chasing the fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth places in the play-off, and Bradford are doing likewise.

It is important not only that we pick up two invaluable points but that we also deny the points to Bradford, who will be just as keen to win a Premiership spot as we are.
