Statement

Welcome to Boundary Park on this historic occasion for Oldham Bears and for Rugby League. As the game kicks off into a new era of Super League and summer rugby, it is fitting that our club is, as Eddie Hemmings put it the other night 'among the chosen 12.'

Not only were Oldham founder members of the organisation we now know as the Rugby Football League, but a local man, Joseph Platt, was its first secretary and one of its most influential administrators in the early years.

A century on, the club is still going strong. It has survived deep and damaging recession, two world wars and hardships which could easily have flooded it, but it is still there, still alive and kicking and now part of Rugby League's elite.

Those of us who are close to the club and all it stands for are very proud men and women indeed as we await Super League's big kick off and the wonderful opportunity it provides to take the game to new heights. But I speak from the heart when I say, without fear of contradiction, the club is nothing without its public and without its supporters.

Its success in Super League will depend on the backing it receives from the town and the local community and I have every confidence in Oldham people to hitch a lift with us on a journey into the unknown that will be as exciting as it will be unpredictable.

This evenings' pre-match entertainment was due to start an hour before kick off and a feature of all our Super League games this summer will be the quality of the pre-match build up and the entertainment that the warm summer evenings will enable us to provide.

By playing in summer of course, we are hoping to attract the attention of sport enthusiasts who, for a variety of reasons, were unable to watch rugby league on a regular basis during the winter months.

Perhaps their leisure time was taken up playing or watching soccer, amateur rugby league or rugby union, but now comes the opportunity for these lovers of winter sports to sample Super League in the summer.

To those of you who may be watching rugby league for the first time this evening, or for the first time in several years, I hope you enjoy the game and appreciate the skill levels and the high levels of fitness of the modern day rugby league players. Rugby League people have confidence in the quality of their product, but there was a need to dress up the shop window and present it to the discerning customer in a new package. Hence our occupation of Boundary Park this evening thanks to the co-operation and assistance of Ian Stott and the Oldham Athletic board. These are excellent facilities here at Boundary Park a fitting stage for Sky Sports to begin their coverage of Super League in the UK (last night's TV game came from Paris) and first rate surroundings to host a first rate sporting event. Thank you again, Oldham Athletic.

Of course, our experience here this evening will inevitably whet the appetite for the time when we can enjoy the delights of the new stadium just across the road. These are exciting times make no mistake about that.

There is such a lot to look forward to, not least the switch to summer rugby. I have long campaigned for a switch of seasons and, like those with similar views, I can merely hope that the influence we brought to bear will prove to be beneficial to the game.

It will be a tough season for all teams in Super League and, in closing, I would like to make the point that it is at the time of greatest challenge that a rugby team most needs its support and most appreciates it. If anything is designed to make a team dig deep when the going gets tough it is the knowledge that there are thousands of folk out there in the grandstands who are willing each player to strain every sinew and test every muscle.

I have the utmost admiration for the supporters of Manchester City. The Maine Road boys have been involved all winter in a battle against relegation, but have you noticed how the crowds have kept up and at some matches, even increased?

The City fans have done their team and club proud in their hour of crisis. I am sure they will be rewarded, a classic case of team and fans pulling together when the going gets tough. I think we can all learn from that.

Finally, a big welcome tonight to chairman Jack Robinson, coach Graeme West and everyone from Wigan and best wishes for an enjoyable Super League season to each and every supporter in the ground tonight.

YOUR Points of view...

Have you got any ideas, or maybe you want to let off steam, please write to Ray Hill, at the club address on page 2 to air your views.

Dear Sir,

I am writing to you as a loyal Bears fan to express my concern for the future of the club. Whilst congratulating you and your staff on your achievements over the last few years, I feel that the way in which the club has been marketed leaves a lot to be desired. I am an 'A' level student at Oldham Sixth Form College, and recently as I was conducting a questionnaire on the effectiveness of marketing. I decided to use rugby league as an example. I interviewed one hundred pupils. I asked them if they knew of the forthcoming Superleague and of Oldham's inclusion in the new competition. Out of the whole one hundred people, only seven knew anything of Oldham rugby. I feel that if the marketing of the club is not stepped-up soon, there will only be about two thousand fans at the Wigan game.

I am also a supporter of Manchester Storm Ice Hockey Club. The only reason I became a supporter of them was due to their impressive marketing.

In little over six months, their attendances have increased from two thousand to around twelve thousand. This has been achieved through advertising on radio, in the newspapers and on the GM Buses as well as in local schools and colleges. May I suggest that similar marketing is done for your club, and soon, otherwise I cannot see our stay in the Super League being anything but a brief one. I hope you listen to my comments, and I would be grateful if you can send to me some promotional posters which I could distribute around my college.

Yours Sincerely

R.N. Whatmough

Dear Sir,

Please could you note the few ideas I have listed below for possible use at press and publicity events to promote the club, especially in the new Superleague season.

Would it be possible to have a large paper screenprinted sheet made - (or perhaps a local college could paint for you)- on a large sheet of paper the club logo design etc. Have the paper stretched over the tunnel entrance, so that when the players run out they burst through the paper screen - it should create excellent visual impact at your home games.

I suggested this to Keighley Cougars last season and they used it and felt it was a good effect.

You could also use the above for newly signed players to burst through at their debut press events.

A polystyrene sheet painted up to look like a brick wall could also be good for the players to break through at matches.

For press photos players could appear in their kit and also wear boxing gloves and declare they will be "knockout" at a particular game or this season. Or simply say they will deliver a tough game to their opponents.

For best effect, it would be best for your players to wear 16oz gloves, they are big and would look good in press for this reason.

And for use with the above you could have a cake iced in opposition colours/team logo and have one of your team hold it up and then another don the gloves and punch the cake - and say "we'll 'crush' the opposition," etc for a gimmick.

Alternatively your team players could hold up an opposition team shirt and say we'll tear a strip off the opposition and tear the rival shirt in two.

Finally, you could possibly have a couple of standard black leather blouson jackets bought for the players and have a local painter/art college paint the club logo on the back for your team players to wear at promotions etc.

I do hope you can note and use a couple of my ideas for use in the forthcoming season to give Superleague and Oldham Bears R.L.F.C. good publicity events to promote the club.

Do please let me know your views.

Many thanks indeed.

Sincerely

Terence C Jolley

Talks...

Rugby League has been given a wonderful opportunity to advance by Super League and Sky Sports and now it is up to us, those who work in the game, play the game and watch the game, to grasp that opportunity and play our part. Everyone associated with rugby league must accept some responsibility this summer for the creation of a new crowd base. We need more spectators coming through the turnstiles to cheer on our game, and in that Oldham is no different to any other team.

As far as the Oldham team and coaching staff is concerned we will do our best by working to maximum levels and attempting to realise of full potential in every game.

I think we proved during the centenary season, certainly during the latter part of the winter campaign, that we can play some good, attractive, crowd pleasing rugby league football. First and foremost, of course, we have to be prepared to work hard and to lay down the foundation for a performance that will enable us to achieve our objective.

It isn't much use throwing the ball around with gay abandon if you are doing it in the wrong places and the wrong times and losing every match. We won't lose sight of the fact that we must strive to attain levels that will enable us to play winning rugby, but within that framework we will do our best to entertain. In sport, as in life, you achieve little if you panic. A calm, clinical approach product best results and I hope that players and our loyal spectators will remain calm and dignified whether in victory or defeat.

Super League isn't a sprint. While we all desire to get off at a brilliant start over the first five or six games, we must recognise that what matters most is our position at the finishing tape after a tough, 22 match programme, not our placing as all clubs jockey for position in the opening weeks.

We showed last season how quickly fortunes can change and I think there was a lesson there from which we can all benefit. Finally, a big welcome to our new boys Matt Munro, Andrew Patmore and Andrew Jackson. On behalf of the coaching staff I extend best wishes for their happy association with the club.

Bears

Well Super League has arrived at last (phew) and today we welcome all supporters young and old from Wigan, we also welcome 'Postman Pat' without his cat to our first match of a very important season.

Over the last few months a lot of changes have taken place, not least our official name change to 'Oldham Bears' and the introduction of free admission to children under 12. Another change has seen the introduction of our new 'Junior Bears Supporters Club' which is open to all 'Bears' supporters up to the age of 16.

We hope to offer a fun filled packed club, with monthly newsheets, quizzes and monthly meetings, to be held locally and at times you could attend. Mascot draws will take place giving every 'Junior Bear' the chance to line up along side their team. Birthday cards specially designed and signed by your favourite player and team coach, also at each meeting players will come along and sign autographs and talk to you (hopefully to join in games as well), there will be chance to win prizes donated by the club or sponsors. Look out for details of our first meeting in the local press.

Lots to do, places to go with the 'Junior Bears' and 10% discount on all goods bought from any of the club shops. To join the 'Junior Bears' has an initial cost of £3 this season and application forms are available from the shop in Town Square or call at Watersheddings and see Judith or Ray. Two passport size photographs will be required and a completed form for you to receive your 'Junior Bears' membership card.

Well 'good luck' to the 'Bears' today and lets hear those cheers!

Don Yates Looks Back To A Match From Yesteryear

After all the uncertainty surrounding events in Australia during the last few months, we are now able to put legal arguments behind us and look to the future as Wigan visit Boundary Park this evening in the first European Super League match to be staged in Britain.

It is hoped that the leading European Super League clubs will be allowed to challenge the cream of Australian talent in the autumn for the proposed World Club Championship. It is appropriate therefore, that Wigan are involved in this historic occasion because it was Wigan who first instigated the idea of a World Club Championship with their promotion of the World Club Challenge in October 1987.

As British champions they threw down the gauntlet to the Australian authorities who allowed Australian Premiers Manly Warringah to visit Wigan for that momentous meeting. The match created tremendous interest and there was a terrific atmosphere as the following two teams trotted out on to Central Park:

Wigan: Steve Hampson, Richard Russell, David Stephenson, Joe Lydon, Henderson Gill, Shaun Edwards, Andy Gregory, Brian Case, Nicky Kiss, Shaun Wane, Andy Goodway, Ian Potter and Ellery Hanley. Substitutes Ged Byrne, Graeme West, Ian Gildart and Ian Lucas.

Manly: Dale Shearer, David Ronson, Darrell Williams, Michael O'Connor, Stuart Davis, Cliff Lyons, Des Hasler, Phil Daley, Mal Cochrane, Ian Gately, Ron Gibbs, Owen Cunningham and Paul Vautin. Substitutes, Mark Brokenshire, Jeremy Ticehurst, Mark Pocock and Paul Shaw.

The confrontation proved to be a thrilling encounter. Defences were on top but there was enough action to satisfy the 36,895 spectators crammed into Central Park. Manly began well and took the lead after just two minutes when Michael O'Connor landed a penalty after Wigan were caught offside. The Australian lead lasted only a matter of minutes before David Stephenson equalised after Des Hasler was pulled out for an assault on Shaun Wane. The tough tackling continued with Cliff Lyons being dispatched to the sin bin after ten minutes.

Before he returned Wigan went in front after an incident involving Dale Shearer and Shaun Edwards. So Wigan led 4-2, a lead which they held at half time although Manly were unlucky when Shearer crossed just before the interval but he was unable to ground the ball.

The second half followed in the same pattern as the first. Tough-as-teak tackling which just kept at bay a series of attacking charges which would have breached most defences in the game. David Stephenson extended the Wigan lead immediately after the interval with another penalty and then completed the scoring with his fourth penalty five minutes later as Manly suffered a major blow as second rower Ron Gibbs was sent off. Gibbs dismissal came on the intervention of a touch judge who spotted an off-the-ball incident involving Joe Lydon. Although the scoring had finished, the action certainly hadn't.

Manly exerted severe pressure on the Wigan line in the closing stages of the match especially on the hour when Brian Case spent ten minutes sat in the sin bin. However Wigan were able to hold out and so took the title with their hard earned 8-2 success.

In all it was a great match, a great occasion and a great boost to the British game after the batterings which the home nation had suffered against Australian sides in the years leading up to this memorable encounter.

Let us hope that Anglo-Australian relations will resume later this year so that fans on both sides of the globe will be treated to matches as pulsating as that historic clash in 1987.

WELCOME TO BARRY AND HIS GUESTS - HAVE A GOOD DAY

On this day....

Don Yates recalls this day in history.

On this day sixteen years ago, Wigan and Oldham were not even in the same league. But it was the Roughyeds who ended Sunday, 30th March 1980 in better shape for, as Wigan lost 16-5 away to Bradford Northern in the First Division, Oldham beat Doncaster 46-2 at Watersheddings in a Second Division match. Prop Steve Herbert and winger Geoff Munro each scored three of Oldham's ten tries whilst Eric Fitzsimmons, on the other wing, landed eight goals.

It was on this day in 1988, Wednesday, 30th March, that Halifax qualified for Wembley with a 4-3 semi-final replay victory over Hull before a crowd of 25,117 at Elland Road, Leeds. Winger Chris Anderson was the Halifax hero. He scored the only try of a hard fought tie which had ended pointless the previous Saturday. Popular utility player Peter Smethurst gave many sterling performances for several clubs, including both Wigan and Oldham. It was on this day in 1973 that he made his debut for Wigan after being signed from Leigh earlier in the month. He turned out in the second-row and played a significant part in Wigan's 10-9 home victory over Swinton, the club with whom he had begun his career.

Still on the transfer front, it was on this day in 1985 that Oldham strengthened their squad with a double swoop into the transfer market. They signed David Hobbs from Featherstone Rovers and Paul Dixon from Huddersfield. Neither player was to stay at Watersheddings for long. Hobbs made sixty appearances before moving to Bradford Northern two years later whilst Dixon's move was for a loan period which came to a conclusion four weeks and five matches later. Another player to move on this date was Scott Martin, Salford's star centre who joined the Red Devils from Leigh exactly 12 months ago today.

It was on this day in 1933, Wednesday 30th March, that England met Other Nationalities in a high scoring international at Lonsdale Park, Workington. A crowd of 11,000 saw England race into a 21-5 interval lead and then fend off a determined come back by the exiles to eventually win 34-27. Neither Oldham nor Wigan had representatives in the England team but Wigan's Jim Sullivan landed six goals for Other Nationalities whose pack contained Len Mason (Wigan) and Trevor Thomas (Oldham).

Finally it was on this day in 1986 that Parramatta defeated Illawarra 12-8 in Australia's big Winfield Cup match of the day. Parramatta went on to lift the Australian Premiership during that 1986 campaign.

Lord... Here we go again!

What a time of change in our game! And to be fair not all the changes have filled me with confidence.

There's the effective banning of the Aussie Super League, the two scheduled games between Bath and Wigan, can you imagine it? Rugby League players at Twickers and of course the Silk Cut Challenge Cup, without Wigan, some would say the most significant of all.

Summer rugby is most definitely with us, the kick off times vary from day to day but whatever happens hopefully it works and its here to stay, and what's more it looks like we will be able to continue with both the Regal Trophy and the Silk Cut Challenge Cup which personally I am all in favour of.

My fervent wish is that it all has the required effect and we end up with a much higher more national profile game being watched by a lot more people.

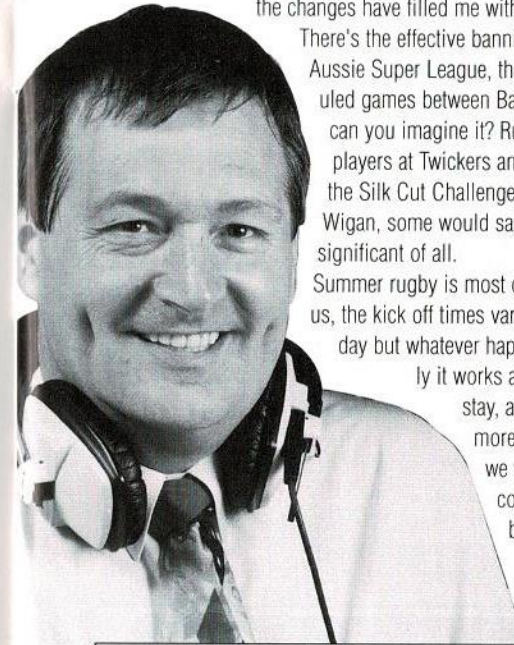

My main worry is, that sometime in the not to distant future, should one or more games create such interest nationally we might end up having to pay a premium as some did for the Bruno/Tyson fight.

My sincere best wishes go to Gus O'Donnell and I hope everything turns out right for him in the end and I also send my best wishes to Ian Blease at Salford and Joe Lydon at Wigan both of whom are enjoying well deserved Testimonials this year.

I have a feeling there are still battles to be fought before we can all relax about the state of our game but to one thing I am sure of is its still the best.

Either carry on or start watching, you could do a lot worse!

"A" Team

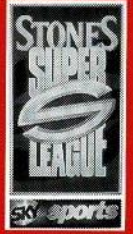

Welcome to the new Super League season our last League match against Saints was disappointing, with such bad weather training was at times very difficult. The players worked hard against Saints but the game slipped away from us in the last quarter. Our next game in the same week at Hull, in the Cup, was the same as the game with Saints. A bright start and we were unlucky not to have scored on three or four occasions. The young Roughyeds really took the game to Hull, fortunately for Hull had injuries to Wilde, Prescott and Eastwood who all left the field at half time and Oldham had been the best side in the first forty, very confident in the dressing room at half time the players were ready for the next half. We started well but as the game progressed holes in the defence started to appear and Hull took full advantage. Players were getting injured but with no subs to replace them the players battled very hard. Eventually Hull ran away with the game in the last quarter. I would like to thank all trialists and Academy players who have played in the A team from mid season and look forward to this season which will hopefully be injury free.

WELCOME Wigan to

Boundary Park

GARY CONNOLLY - Utility Back

Originally signed for St. Helens Rugby League Club from Blackbrook (St. Helens). Recognised as one of the top backs in International Rugby League. At home in either the full back or his favourite centre position, Gary has outstanding attacking and defensive qualities.

JASON ROBINSON - Winger

A Great Britain international nicknamed Billy Whizz who always proves difficult to tackle. Played half back in his amateur playing days, but has now made the right wing his own. Was voted Man of the Match in the 1995 Silk Cut Challenge Cup Wembley final, scoring two sensational tries.

MICK CASSIDY - Forward

Signed from Amateur Rugby League Club Wigan St. Judes. An all round adaptable forward with strong pace and determination making opposing teams wary of him. Mick was bitterly disappointed to be knocked out during the 1994 Silk Cut Cup Final against Leeds, but has since bounced back with some sterling performances in the Stones Centenary Season.

VA'AIGA TUIGAMALA - Back

A famous All Black international who played his first game for Wigan on the wing, later to transfer to centre. Gained his second Challenge Cup winners medal in April 1995 against Leeds. He is a powerful runner who has adapted well to the game of Rugby League. With his speed and skill making him a favourite with the spectators, if not the opposition.

MARTIN OFFIAH - Wing

Originally signed from Rosslyn Park Rugby Union Club (London) and transferred to Wigan from Widnes for a record signing fee of £440,000. One of the all time greats of the game with an exceptional turn of speed and an eye for a try.

MARTIN HALL - Hooker

Transferred to Wigan from Rochdale Hornets Rugby League Club and has adapted well to the Wigan hooking position. Mr Consistent, Martin is one of the games great competitors. His constant hard work has gained him recognition at international level with Wales.

TERRY O'CONNOR - Forward

Originally signed by Salford from Widnes Amateur Club. St. Maries after successfully touring New Zealand with BARLA. Transferred to Wigan where his sights are set on gaining the highest honours the game has to offer.

SHAUN EDWARDS - Half Back

Signed from Amateur Rugby League club Wigan St. Patricks. Favourite position scrum half. Captained England at both codes at schoolboy level and holds the most winners medals in the games history. Demands perfection from both himself and his colleagues. A player with vision and constant alertness.

HENRY PAUL - Back

Signed in the 1993/94 season. Good all round Rugby League player on line with some of the great names from New Zealand who have played for the Wigan club. His ability to read a game reflects in his personal skills and commitment gaining him invaluable experience at international level.

KELVIN SKERRETT - Prop Forward

Transferred to Wigan from Bradford Northern he is a Welsh and Great Britain international. A powerfully strong running prop and a gifted player, ranks amongst the best.

SCOTT QUINNELL - Forward

Signed professional from Llanelli Rugby Union Club having gained international caps for Wales in that code. Recognised as a forward with the strength and speed to worry any defence, he has the potential to be a great force within the game, and will be looking to maintain a regular place in the Wigan First team this season.

KRIS RADLINSKI - Back

Another of the young players who has come through the junior ranks at Wigan. Kris showed maturity beyond his years capping a great year by winning the Harry Sunderland Trophy at Old Trafford, being the first player ever to score a hat trick in a Premiership final. Went on to star in the England line up for the Halifax Centenary World Cup.

SIMON HAUGHTON - Forward

A double international at schoolboy level, also appears in the Guinness book of records for scorer of most tries ever in a season. Already established as a regular member of the first team squad, Simon looks to have the makings of one of the greats of the game.

ANDY FARRELL - Forward

Andy missed the end of the Centenary season due to an operation on a niggling injury. Hopefully now back to full fitness the multi talented forward is a great asset to the club especially with his kicking ability, as he proved by stepping into the kicking role when Frano Botica moved to Auckland Warriors.

GRAHAM WEST - Coach

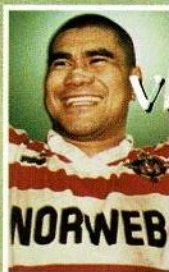

Signed for Wigan from New Zealand as a professional Rugby League player. He has had an illustrious career with Wigan both as player and coach. He advocates an outstanding professional approach to the game of Rugby League and is the perfect Ambassador for the game. Graeme has the unparalleled achievement of coaching Wigan to the Grand Slam in his first season in charge. Voted Coach of the Year by Sky TV viewers recently.

Academy...

We are nearly ready to kick off our new Summer season which should be quite interesting from a point of view of playing in better weather than what we are used to. Also it should provide us with a better standard of rugby, nobody likes to play in some of the conditions we have had to cope with in the past.

We are all looking forward to it. The boys are all looking very fit and have trained really hard during the close season, doing a lot of work on the weights.

We are also looking forward to starting our apprenticeship scheme which starts in July and we already have about half a dozen boys ready to take advantage of it. This scheme will obviously be a great way for the boys to hopefully become full time rugby players eventually, and doing a lot of work with the first team squad will obviously do them a world of good. If we are to become a force in this new Super League we see the scheme as the only way to make sure we have a good crop of youngsters coming through because you can't always keep going out and buying players.

You have to produce some yourself and we feel the investment will pay dividends in the future of our club.

Yours in Sport Brian Gartland

Welcome Back

Towards the back end of the short Centenary season, the Rugby Football League indicated that one programme, issued from headquarters each week, would cover all Super League matches that weekend. Since then there has been a re-think and so the Oldham matchday magazine lives on. We hope it fulfils your requirements and that you find it interesting. If you have an idea which you think will brighten up this publication, let Ray Hill know at Watersheddings and we will try to incorporate your idea into the programme. The majority of contributors to this programme do so on a voluntary basis and we think that they do a reasonable job. We hope you think so too, so keep supporting the Bears and keep buying the programme.

Quote Of The Day

In revolutions, power always remains in the hands of nobodies. So said George Danton on receiving the death sentence in 1794.

Sporting Gaffe

Those rugby union chaps are always good for a quote and one which was heard on Irish radio during the recent Five Nations series was, "so near and yet so close came the Irish to success".

Happy Birthday

Prop Paul Norman celebrated his 22nd birthday last Monday and utility back Wally Gibson will be 29 next Friday. Congratulations to both.

Thoughts from the Terraces...

So here we go. And you can't say it is not different. Saturday evening with pre match entertainment, at Boundary Park! I cannot remember when we last kicked off a season against Wigan either, but I suspect their strength will be one aspect which is unchanged. Still, you never know. What a boost to the whole Super League it would be, not to mention to our prospects, if we could get two points out of tonight's game. We shall see!

What a nightmare few weeks for the game there has been in Australia. By chance I have been speaking to a couple of Aussie RL fanatics recently, and it is difficult for us to understand the degree of depression, incomprehension and disillusion amongst our down under equivalents. There seems to be general sympathy for the ARL Athurson-Quayle position, which I must admit I share, in spite of being strongly in favour of the general Super League philosophy. But there is also great, and entirely understandable, worry that their apparent intransigence has done irreparable damage to the 13-a-side code, at least in the Antipodes. Surely, they argue, some form of compromise could have been found in order to keep the ARL in control of the game, but also to accommodate both Packer and Murdoch desires to have RL on their TV networks? Eventually surely, this is bound to happen. So why allow millions to be wasted in court fees, and the 1995 season to be decimated? This is the charge which the ARL management will have to answer in the end.

Of course there is still a major southern hemisphere influence in our Super League, indeed, if anything, it seems to be increasing again. On the field, more sides, Oldham of course included, have been topping up their squads with Aussies, Kiwis and South Sea islanders. And off the field, the birth of the new era can hardly be said to represent a triumph for the emergent breed of British coaches. Counting Mr Murphy as a half, there are only three and a half, out of the 12 Super League clubs. Wouldn't it be good to see Sheffield, Warrington, Castleford and Oldham be the four teams contesting the World Club Championships (if they happen) in September! Mind you I should think the odds against would rival those on tonight's lottery jackpot winner being here at Boundary Park. The Observer last week predicted fourth, seventh, eighth and ninth places respectively!

I have a feeling that Super League crowds will indeed show the upward trend which, as they say, is devoutly to be wished, if our game is to stand any chance of prospering into the next millennium. What will be interesting to see, though is whether or not there is a similar trend in Division One and Two. Looking at the clubs involved, Division One looks likely to be highly competitive, whilst Division Two might well see an early breakaway of two or three clubs at the top, I suspect, certainly the Swinton-Bury Lions look to have recruited well, and if Holliday stays fit, I wouldn't be at all surprised to see them just pipping Hull KR come the end of the season. However, given the record over many years of crowd apathy in Bury, it is difficult to envisage them averaging any more than a puny 1500 or so even then. On the other hand, I suspect that those who anticipate Salford strolling away with the cherished Division One promotion spot will be sadly disappointed. Widnes' cup feats during the Centenary season showed what they are capable of when their motivation is right, and away trips to Whitehaven, Hull, Keighley, Wakefield, Featherstone and Huddersfield will not be easy ones for anyone. I wouldn't be surprised to see the sort of nail-biting fight to the finish for a Super League place in 1997 which should be guaranteed to raise crowds all round. Let us hope so.

Everyone has to be positive about Super League, I know. And I agree, really. But it would be wrong to ignore some of the clouds already looming. Season ticket sales are predictably down all round, and after Bradford's superb performance last week no doubt Leeds as well as Wigan will be bemoaning the loss of Wembley revenue. The Murdoch money seems not to be stretching as far as was first thought. And people suddenly seem to have realised that it is stupid to finish the season at the end of August. While eleven competitive home games averaging, say, six thousand spectators generates more match day revenue than thirteen or fifteen averaging four thousand, it does not seem sensible to waste the six months of October to March completely. Surely this is where the Challenge Cup should come in? It would be criminal to abandon the tradition which it represents and sheer folly to throw away its revenue earning potential. And two months of winter RL starvation have already made me, and I know many others too, dread the prospect of a full five or six months of it each year. If Mr Lindsay ever returns from his new friends in Australia I suggest that this now needs to be his top priority in England. We need a meaningful new format for the single prestigious cup competition. How about a regionalised mini-league first stage in October, which could possibly be extended to finish with final group matches over the Christmas period, followed by March quarter and semi finals and the traditional end of April final? Over to you, Maurice!

NEWS From

Down Under...

SURGEONS at a Sydney hospital have sewn back the ear of South Sydney star - and one match Sheffield Eagles wonder - Darrell Trindall.

It had been bitten off in a nightclub scuffle with a former Souths player.

The two footballers came to blows a week ago in an upmarket club in the eastern suburb of Coogee.

Trindall came off worse for wear because he was nursing a broken hand sustained in the Charity Shield clash with St George two weeks earlier.

He can thank team-mate Nathan Wood for the fact that surgeons were able to re-attach the ear.

Wood picked it up from the floor and put it in a glass of ice before rushing Trindall to hospital.

Souths' football manager Alan Jones contacted one of Australia's leading micro-surgeons who raced to the hospital to sew the ear back on.

ST GEORGE DRAGONS

No club has been hit as hard by the Super League crisis as St George.

First, because of the uncertainty in Australia, Brian Smith quit to take up a new challenge with the Bradford Bulls.

Then his replacement, Rod 'Rocket Reddy', defected to the Adelaide Rams in the Super League before a ball had been kicked in anger.

Many of their stars departed to the rebel competition - even though some apparently still had contracts with the Dragons.

Gordon Tallis, Jason and Paul Stevens, Nathan Brown, Anthony Mundine, Rod Maybon, Noel Goldthorpe, Tony Priddle, Damien Chapman and Chris Quinn

(although there is now talk of Brown and Mundine returning to the fold).

Graeme Bradley followed Smith across the world to Bradford.

But new coach, David Waite, who took Newcastle to its first semi-final spot is unfazed. He believes he will unearth some new youngsters.

One who seems to fit that bill is 19-year-old halfback Ben Kusto who in the trials has stamped himself as a player of the future.

But it is to the future that Saints' supporters must set their sights.

This won't be their year.

NEWCASTLE KNIGHTS

The Knights gave notice of a big season with a comprehensive victory in the World Sevens.

But the victory did not come without cost.

They will be without one of their vital playmakers, halfback Andrew Johns, for the early part of the season.

The Knights have lost several first-graders during the off-season, including three-quarters Nathan Barnes and Robbie Ross and forwards Mark Sargent and Robbie McCormack.

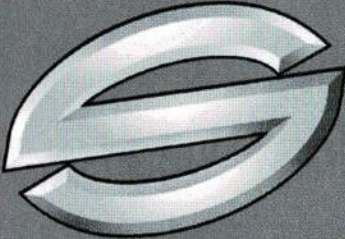

But they've been boosted by the arrival of England's World Cup hooker Lee Jackson and promising young prop Glen Grief from Wests.

Other World Cup stars in their ranks are Matthew Johns, Robbie O'Davis, Paul Harragon and Adam Muir.

And centre Jamie Ainscough should have been in the Cup squad, too.

We'll just have to wait to see if Mal Reilly's million-pound 'loyalty' bonus was worth it.

It's here, Super League has arrived and I am sure it will prove another big boost for Rugby League in Oldham. Since the end of the Centenary Season there has been plenty of activity both on and off the field. From my point of view the most significant event has been my change of position to become Director of Student Rugby League which was a job that came out of the blue. I was simply preparing for the Renault Oldham Schools Cup and the Town Team Cup Finals when the opportunity to take over from Bev Risman came along. I was not very happy about leaving Oldham at such an exciting time but in the end I thought this was a chance too good to miss. I was also happy that Brian Gartland would be able to carry on the most important aspects of the programme and that he will do a wonderful job.

The Renault Oldham Schools Cup is well under way and progressing towards the finals which will be held at Watersheddings on April 23rd and April 24th.

The Under 15's Town Team were unfortunate to lose to Wigan in the final of the Lancashire Cup but they may well get a chance to make amends if they reach the final of the Denis Davies Trophy.

Unfortunately the Under 16s game in the final of the English Schools Cup was postponed because of snow and frost. That game will be played in the very near future.

So as I sign off these final Development notes I would like to thank all the many people who helped me during my stay in Oldham and I wish the Bears every success in Super League.

Today sees the start of a new column by Oldham Evening Chronicle Rugby League writer Roger Halstead

The best wishes of all rugby league fans will surely be with Wigan when they meet Bath in the game of the century, one under Union rules at Twickenham and the other under League laws at Maine Road.

Almost a year has passed by since I wrote in the Oldham Evening Chronicle in a piece headlined: "Stand by for the merger to beat all mergers" that we should enjoy the Rugby League centenary season because not many years would pass before we were watching Hull v Harlequins or Bath v Bradford Northern.

Little did we know then that Northern would soon emerge from the Odsal shippin in the shape of the Bulls or that the gentlemen of Bath would gather the club membership together and vote by a landslide to form a limited liability company.

How times change Orrell taking over Central Park, Leeds diving into partnership with the local RU club and now comes Bath v Wigan.

These historic clashes between the giants of the two codes will have their critics, yet there is a certain fascination at the prospect of seeing Wigan emerge from the Twickenham tunnel to get their minds and bodies around the complexities of the ruck, maul and line out.

I fear for Bath at Maine Road, yet I have the sneaking suspicion that Tuigamala, Quinnell and Co will give the West Country men a good run for their money at HQ.

It is difficult to argue with those who claim that Wigan's commitments this summer should be exclusive to Super League. However, one has got to wonder how Wigan received approval to play Bath and enter the Middlesex sevens, while Bradford were discouraged from taking on Leicester and St. Helens were told the Middlesex sevens were not for them.

No matter, Wigan will be flying the flag for league and it is important for the 13-a-side sport's image and credibility that the Central Park men do us proud, as I am sure they will.

To be honest, they can't lose. We all know Bath won't live with "our lads" in the League game at Maine Road, I wonder if Union folk are equally confident of success when the big two clash at Twickers. Somehow I doubt it, despite constant claims in the Union press that tactical sophistication in rugby football begins and ends with the 15-man code.

Go to it Wigan, and show them that real rugby football is about running, passing and scoring tries.
